NEGOTIATING FOR SUCCESS

2-DAY SEMINAR

DATES

MAY 1-2, 2024 IN PERSON

NOVEMBER 5-6, 2024 IN PERSON

TUITION

$1,695 USD

Discounts may apply for groups, non-profits, and UW alumni.

LEARN PROVEN APPROACHES TO SUCCESSFUL NEGOTIATIONS

Your ability to negotiate and apply influence are critical to success in both your personal and professional life. From communication with your co-workers, to reconciling competing interests across departments, to structuring agreements with your customers, this practical two-day program will provide you with frameworks and approaches to arrive at the best outcomes for yourself and your organization. You will develop an awareness of common problems faced in negotiations and optimal approaches to address a broad spectrum of scenarios.

In addition to lectures, in-class discussions, and advance readings, participants will engage in simulations to practice the concepts taught in the program. Participants will gain experience and receive feedback through exercises in both single-issue and multiparty negotiation.

BENEFITS OF ATTENDING

- Discover your personal negotiation style and how to draw from other approaches.
- Develop a toolkit of strategies applicable to future situations.
- Grow your leadership presence by improving your ability to persuade others.

LEARN TODAY. APPLY TOMORROW.

This program will prepare you with skills and confidence to approach negotiations for numerous situations.

KEY TOPICS

WHY MOST PEOPLE ARE NOT GOOD NEGOTIATORS

Just like any skill, negotiation requires training and feedback to improve one's performance. Learn common misconceptions about negotiation and discuss the skills necessary to success.

A FOCUS ON INTERESTS

Discover what information is good to share and what information you should not reveal in a negotiation. We will also discuss strategies identified by research that allow negotiators to reveal their negotiation partner's interests.

ASSESSING YOUR NEGOTIATION PERSONALITY

Your personal style has profound implications for how you perform in a negotiation. Each participant will assess their own negotiation style and discuss ways to tap into a wide range of approaches.

PREPARING FOR SUCCESS

You will learn pivotal concepts that are essential to your negotiation preparations. Learn how to think through your priorities, the other party's motivations, and what information you need to perform well.

FOUR COMMON PITFALLS IN NEGOTIATIONS

People tend to fall victim to common traps when they negotiate. Become familiar with these potential pitfalls and how to avoid them.

CHOOSING YOUR APPROACH

Not all negotiations are the same. You will learn to employ appropriate tactics for differing situations. You will also learn specific ways to influence and affect the other party's behavior.

MULTIPARTY NEGOTIATIONS

Research has identified common mistakes and process losses made by individuals involved in multiparty negotiations. We will discuss these potential mistakes and process losses and how to prevent them.

LEARN MORE

PHONE: 206-543-8560

WEB: foster.uw.edu/negotiating

E-MAIL: execed@uw.edu

Executive Education Michael G. Foster School of Business University of Washington Seattle, WA "The material is relevant to a wide variety of fields, helps you gain confidence, and is research-based."

STEPHANIE PURE

Govenment Relations
King County

"I unlearned bad tactics and realized better ways to approach difficult conversations."

VINCENT COMMISSO

Project Manager Vigor

PROGRAM FACULTY

ELIZABETH UMPHRESS, PH.D.

Professor of Management Michael G. Foster Endowed Professor

Faculty Director of Consulting and Business Development Center

UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON